

instituto de arte contemporânea

instituto de arte contemporânea

instituto de arte contemporânea

A white, textured ceramic sculpture is positioned diagonally across the frame. It has a rounded, bulbous shape with a visible vertical seam or fold running down its center. The surface is covered in fine, irregular ridges and grooves, giving it a natural, perhaps organic appearance. The lighting is soft, casting gentle shadows that emphasize the form's roundedness and the texture of the material.

instituto de arte contemporânea