Dear Mr. Camargo,

Thank you for your letter of 19th December. I had, in fact realised that what was passed on to this gallery as the property of Signals, London, was not always genuinely their property. It was for this reason that I asked Guy Brett to look at these particular works.

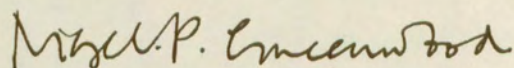

I will notify those who are handling Signals liquidation about the work belonging to Mr. David Medalla, and the other I will keep well out of sight until you are next in London.

I understand that the works being sent to you from Signals were sent back from the French frontier and I imagine that the only way you can now get these into France is in your own personal baggage.

Anyway, I hope that you will be able to sort out that problem and if I can be of any assistance, please let me know.

Meanwhile I look forward to meeting you here in the gallery.

Yours sincerely,

Nigel P. Greenwood
