

instituto de arte contemporânea

A photograph of a dark blue rectangular box, possibly a book or a small sculpture, positioned against a light-colored wall. The box features four vertical slits. Through these slits, several elongated, pointed objects are visible, each with a red outer edge and a white inner core. The objects appear to be arranged in a row, with some slightly offset. The background wall is light-colored and has a faint, diagonal watermark that reads "instituto de arte contemporânea".
