Dear M. Esmeraldo:

Since I had to delay my trip to Paris, I would appreciate it if you would advise me as to what you think we should do with the pieces which I took from you, since I certainly do not want to hold you up.

I still expect to come to Europe this year and will, of course, advise you when I have firm plans. In the meantime however, if you would prefer, I would be glad to either pay you for the pieces or return them until we could come to some agreement.

With kindest personal regards.
