Dear Mr. de Camargo:

I have just received the little models of the three panels. In the meantime, you must have received your first check together with a request for photographs of the executed panels.

I am very eager to receive the photographs. The models you have sent give the impression of a very wide empty space in each panel (about one meter) and I am affraid that such a wide space between the relief elements will disrupt the unity of each panel. But the photographs will tell a better story.

At any rate, do not pack the panels before I tell you to do so.

Each panel should be painted first with a white sealer, then with a coat of white flat paint. We will apply here the last coat of paint after installation.

With my best regards, I am,

Sincerely,

Paul Damaz
